Welcome to our Strategic Plan 2018-2020

Almost 300 participants achieve many goals as they worked hard to engage in the wide variety of educational, training and social programmes on offer each week throughout LYCS.

Due to decades of social disadvantage, generational unemployment and widespread drug/alcohol misuse, a large proportion of the local population are unable to participate in a meaningful way in the economy. The rise in the use of drugs, in particular tablets, has made the local environment more challenging and less safe for everyone.

We, in LYCS, believe that increased levels of education and training are required if people are to access stable, adequately paid employment and benefit from the fruits of the economic recovery. Our challenge for the next three years is to continue to actively engage local people in a positive way and to act as a haven and hub of hope and development in order to counter the negative social and economic challenges facing the community in the north inner city.

Refurbishment of Rutland Street School

The community received confirmation in October 2017, as part of the North East Inner City (NEIC) Task Force, that the old Rutland Street School would be refurbished into a thriving community education centre. This facility will become a valuable resource for the local community into the future. There has been a huge level of positive local support for this development. The refurbishment process will begin in 2018 and is expected to take two years to complete. One of the more exciting plans for 2018, will be the merger of North City Centre Community Action Project (NCCCAP) with LYCS. This will include the development of a new curriculum which will provide local early school leavers with opportunities to progress to further education and/or employment on completion.

Dublin Inner City Community Co-Op

LYCS is a founder member of the newly formed Co-Op along with 12 other community development organisations who have come together to create a cohesive approach to the delivery of services for the most disadvantaged areas in Dublin’s Inner City.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank staff and volunteers for their contribution, energy, commitment and continuous sense of humour, which they bring to work every day – without which LYCS would not be the hive of activity that it is. Thanks are also due to the members of the Management Board for their on-going, voluntary commitment, which is very much appreciated. We hope you enjoy reading this Plan and do contact us if you would like any more information about LYCS.

1. PHILOSOPHY

To encourage people to be aware of their own power and how they can use it to effect change and that every person has the right to participate fully in their own, their community’s, and their country’s development.

2. LYCS VISION 2018-2020

We envision a time where no person in our community is left behind, when aspirations are high and our community has excellent services and humanising employment. We work to ensure this future by providing opportunities for the oldest, the youngest, newest and most vulnerable people in our community.

Our ‘cradle to grave’ provision endeavours to create an equality of opportunity for all our neighbours by providing high quality affordable childcare to support relevant educational programmes leading to positive futures characterised by choice.

As the foremost provider of community based education and training services in our community, we work in an ambitious and creative way to address the structural causes of poverty and inequality. Our programmes are needs and evidence based and are continually reviewed and evaluated to ensure the best possible provision in Dublin’s north east inner city.

3. PROFILE OF LYCS

Lourdes Youth & Community Services (LYCS) was established in 1984, as part of a broad based community development movement, which emerged in Dublin’s north inner city in the late 70’s and 80’s. This community mobilisation was an attempt to combat the relentless economic and social decline being experienced in inner city Dublin. Families living in the area experience levels of economic and social disadvantage. Unemployment levels are high and the mis-use of drugs is widespread.

“I think having a Youth Club in my area is good because it keeps me busy. I get to make new friends, learn new things, and I get to try new opportunities.”

19 yr old youth work participant
LYCS is an integrated community based education, training, recreation and development project which is concerned with giving participants the opportunity to become involved in their own development and the development of their community. The organisation is locally based and participatory. Personal development is seen as inextricably linked to the development of local community resources.

To address the diverse needs of the local community LYCS operates six programmes:

- Community Training Centre (CTC): 40 Early School Leavers have the opportunity to gain certified training in FETAC Level 3 & 4.

- Adult Education Programme provides informal training and education for over 80 women and men each week, all of who have little or no history of formal education.

- Crèche provides 80 places for children aged 1-5 years each day. Parents of children who use the crèche are drawn from all four programmes within LYCS and live locally.

- Youth Work Programme offers afternoon, evenings and weekend programmes for young people ages 10-21.

- Community Employment provides 36 work placements and training opportunities for long term unemployed adults.

- Development Education delivers training & education both in the Dublin region and nationally on making the connection between global issues that their impact locally.
LYCS operates in an area which is characterised by high levels of socio-economic deprivation and poverty.

North East Inner City: The total population of the NEIC is 45,816. The NEIC has the largest population of disadvantaged people across the Dublin inner city area.

The key disadvantaged populations in the NEIC are located in the following area:

- North Wall/Sherriff St.
- Along and around the intersection and areas of Sean McDermott St/Buckingham St. and Summerhill.
- Ballybough and Popular Row areas.
- Pockets at Hardwicke St/ Dorset St/ Dominick St.

Key issues and opportunities in the NEIC

- The NEIC population has increased very significantly in the last 20 years. The newer populations in the NEIC area are more affluent than the ‘indigenous populations.
- The area is characterised by pockets of both high levels of disadvantaged and high levels of affluence, and has marked spikes in both.
- There has been significant development, particularly to the east end of the area, around the Docklands and the IFSC, with both commercial and large scale accommodation developments.
- This area has the largest population of migrants in Ireland. Migrant populations in areas around O’Connell St and Dorset St. are at over 50% of the population.
- The area is the hub for the financial services sector in Ireland.
- The area has also been the centre of significant levels of gangland crime.
The national figure is in Green at 14.4%
The Dublin county figure is Blue at 13.3%
In the 71 disadvantaged small areas the figures in Red range from a low of 21% to a high of 53%

The unemployment black spot rate (defined by CSO) which is 27% is in Black
In the 71 disadvantaged small areas the figures in Red range from a low of 12.5% to a high of 64.4%. 61 of the disadvantaged small areas are in excess of the black spot rate of 27%

In the 71 disadvantaged small areas the figures in Red range from a low of 12.5% to a high of 66.6%. 48 of the disadvantaged small areas are in excess of the black spot rate of 27%
Lone Parenthood

There are very high levels of lone parenthood in the areas of socio-economic disadvantage in the inner city. Nationally the rate of lone parenthood is 25.4%, in the county of Dublin the ratio is 38.2%.\(^1\) In the inner city, in disadvantaged communities, lone parenthood is not only the predominant family type, but in some parts it is almost the exclusive family type, for example in parts of Dorset Street Flats (Dublin 1) it is 86%\(^2\) and Ballybough House (Dublin 1) has a rate of 87%.\(^3\) While it is acknowledged that two-parent families may also experience material poverty, lone parents are a particularly vulnerable social group. Lone parent households tend to have the lowest disposable income out of all households in the State.

Migrants / New Communities

Dublin city has the highest population densities of migrants in the country. Nationally, 17.3% of the population were born outside Ireland, in the inner city the population born outside Ireland is 32.3% (47,873 people) almost twice the national average. However, 61% of the population of Mountjoy B ED in the north inner city were born outside of Ireland. Many live in very low quality over crowded, private accommodation in commercial districts such as Dorset Street/Parnell Street.

Education

Educational disadvantage is very clearly evident when educational achievement statistics in the small areas of disadvantage in the inner city are examined. In disadvantaged small areas it is more likely an individual has no post-primary education than a third level education, while in the more affluent communities the reverse is true. In the disadvantaged small areas, a very high proportion of people have a primary education only. In the area of County Dublin City\(^4\) the proportion of those with a primary education only is 14.4% and nationally the figure is 13.3%, whereas in some disadvantaged small areas this is around 40% for example in Dorset Street\(^5\), 53% of the population have primary education only, one area in North Wall 53%\(^6\), Therefore, the chance of having a minimal education is very high if living in a disadvantaged community.

Correspondingly, people in disadvantaged communities have not received a third level education. In the area of County Dublin City the proportion of those with a third level education is 45.5% and nationally the figure is 35.7%. But in the disadvantaged small areas, a much lower proportion of people have a third level education, often less than 5% e.g. Dorset Street (Dublin 1) at 3.03%, Summerhill (Dublin 1) at 2.67%, Courtney Place 1.00%, (Dublin 1)

This disadvantage is continuing with the current cohort of third level students. In 2014 the Higher Education Authority found that 23% of students in Dublin 1 progressed to third level, while in Dublin 6 99% of students went on to third level education. The Dublin city average was 47%.

Unemployment

The national rise in unemployment over the last decade has placed enormous pressure on disadvantaged communities. The seasonally adjusted standardised unemployment rate for November 2017 was 6.1%, down from 7.5% in November 2016. It is important to note that the rates for young people who are unemployed remains high, the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for persons aged 15-24 years (youth unemployment rate) was 12.7% in August 2017, an increase from 12.3% in July 2017. Youth unemployment in Ireland has been unacceptably high for the past ten years and would have been significantly worse were it not for the huge numbers forced to emigrate in search of employment and better lives.

The above figures represent national rates but critically they hide alarming rates of unemployment in a number of localised communities. There are pockets in the inner city where unemployment rates are many multiples of the national rate. The 2016 census figures give a national unemployment rate of 12.9%, with a national male unemployment rate of 13.7% and a national female unemployment rate of 12.0%.

The CSO developed a report on unemployment blackspots, which defined unemployment rates in excess of 27% as a blackspot. 62 of the 71 disadvantaged small areas in the inner city exceed the black spot unemployment rate for men and exceed the national male unemployment rate of 13.7%, sometimes by many multiples. 48 of the disadvantaged small areas in the inner city exceed the black spot unemployment rate for women and exceed the national female unemployment rate of 12%, sometimes by many multiples; for example for men in parts of North Wall it was 54.29% (Dublin 1), were unemployed.

“Youth itself is a talent – a perishable talent!”
14 YR OLD YOUTH WORK PARTICIPANT
Following discussion between NCCCAP and CDETB, LYCS decided to merge with NCCCAP and to specifically locate the Community Training Centres in one building.

5.1 The Benefits of a Merger for the NEIC

The NEIC is changing, demographically, socially, and economically. The educational and training needs of young people are also changing. Accordingly, organisations, such as LYCS and NCCCAP, must also respond in a dynamic way to the needs of young people in the NEIC. The merger of both organisations represents a significant positive response and will undoubtedly bring a number of challenges to all those involved. However, there are also many benefits associated with the merger, including the following:

Integrated Programme of Activities: All too often, service provision in Ireland generally and the NEIC in particular, tends to be relatively fragmented and lacking any form of cohesion. Since the 1980s, community organisations and statutory agencies have sought to promote integration of service provision and more recently, through the newly established Dublin Inner City Task Force. The merger of the LYCS and NCCCAP represents an historic and tangible form of integration and cohesion of service provision, which is consistent with government policies and the overall thrust of community development.

The combined grouping of both CTCs with the other elements of the LYCS programmes will provide CDETB with a working model to CTCs that is a real alternative to the stand-alone models found elsewhere. In essence, the local community will get a community development and social-economy package, insofar as the new entity will provide a CTC, childcare facilities, and a place for young adults who could not make it through the formal educational system. In short, the new organisation has the capacity to become an effective development centre for the NEIC and beyond.

“When I finished my level 4 course in the CTC the staff helped me get the certs I needed to work on a building site. Now I’m working full time helping build the new health centre.”

LIAM (20YRS) PAST LEARNER
(i) Partnership: The location of the two organisations in one building will facilitate the maximising of resources for the NEIC and promote a partnership approach to service provision. It will enable LYCS to amalgamate its current programme of activity - CTC, the Youth and Adult Education Programmes, Childcare Centre, CE and Development Education - under one roof and to benefit from its partnership with the NCCCAP. Both organisations have had different experiences in providing training and have access to diverse personnel and resources. Their partnership will enhance its profile in the area and allow for greater interaction with other organisations in the area.

(ii) Focal Point for Community: A newly refurbished Rutland Street School will enhance the visual aspect of the area and serve as a focal point for community activities in the NEIC. The building will act as a focus and information point for the local community, thereby attracting and helping to regularise relationships with local employers.

(iii) Centre of Excellence: Participants and visitors to Rutland Street School will have the opportunity to access a user-friendly environment, specially designed to cater for their needs in a centre of educational and training excellence.

(iv) Value for Money: The new organisation should not only give more value for money by minimising any duplication and the promotion of synergies, but their location in a new state of the art building will be more cost-effective by reducing the need to maintain two buildings and by minimising the costs associated with the upkeep of the present LYCS building, which, over time, has become quite dilapidated and ill equipped to handle the volume of activity required.

(v) Wide Range of Services: Above all, the people of the NEIC will benefit from the enhanced level of service provision and quality of services that will be possible following the merger of the two organisations. In addition to the benefits already noted, the training programmes will continue to provide trainees with very important skills that will help them get jobs and improve themselves generally.

6. MANAGEMENT STRUCTURE

The project is managed by locally based voluntary Board of Management who has over the past 30 years shown huge commitment to the organisation. This board meets once a month. LYCS employs a CEO who is responsible to the Management Board for the work of the organisation. The CEO manages the Managers of each Programme of work who are in turn responsible for the day-to-day running of the organisation.

“LYCS prepares you for the outside world, it’s like moving from playschool to primary school. We all love the comfort of playschool but we all need to learn to take that next step.”

CE PARTICIPANT
6.1 Number and frequency of meetings during the year

Management Board meets one evening per month for eleven months of the year. The annual system of reporting to funders acts as a catalyst for LYCS to evaluate the work of the previous year and to plan the work for the coming year. This is carried out initially with staff and volunteers and then with the Management Board. Considering LYCS is now involved in a wide variety of programmes, the review and planning session is a long process whereby each activity and programme of work is reviewed in detail from the participants, the organisation’s and the community’s perspective.

6.2 Structure of Committee Meetings e.g. (Agenda/minutes/staff participation)

Management Committee meetings are chaired by the Chairperson. The Agenda is agreed in advance by the Chairperson and the CEO, but all members have the opportunity to add items to the agenda if they wish. Minutes and agenda, together with a monthly report from the CEO and each Manager are distributed in advance of each meeting. Members of the Board bring a broad range of experience as they come from a variety of backgrounds with many years’ experience of involvement in local community affairs.

6.3 Staffing

The sense of team in LYCS is very strong where people complimented each other’s skills and strengths and worked together to maximum effect especially in the light of current changes. Staff development within LYCS is given a high priority and staff is facilitated to participate in training, which will enhance their skills. As a part of the work, the sense of team has been nurtured and developed by regular team building, which has been important in terms of assisting staff’s motivation for the work. Staff have proved to be flexible, enthusiastic and committed to their work. There is an increased willingness to welcome change should LYCS need to revise the programme on offer to meet local need.
7. LOCAL COMMUNITY NETWORKING

LYCS works closely with other local service providers and participates on a wide variety of networks locally to share information, receive and offer advice on issues affecting the local community. including:

• North Inner City Community Coalition
• Dublin Inner City Task Force
• Dublin City Community Co-Operative
• NEIC network of youth work organisations and CTC/Youthreaches.
• Young People at Risk (YPAR) participation on its forum which aims to facilitate a variety of statutory agencies and government departments to work in partnership together to develop a co-ordinated response to the needs of young people at risk.

“CE looked at all of my needs that were obviously not looked at before. Education is about understanding and knowing what it is that you are studying, and why you are studying now, and what benefits you will get out of it.”

8. CONSULTATION WITH STAKEHOLDERS IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THIS STRATEGIC PLAN

This plan was drawn up in the following manner:

• Staff, Participants and the Management Board has had several meetings to draw up a draft plan.
• The final Report has been drawn up following a period of long consultation with staff and management.
LYCS recognises that in Irish society certain groups and individuals are discriminated against and denied equality of opportunity. Management aims to create an environment in which equal opportunity is promoted as a means of developing the full potential of everyone involved in our organisation.

The organisation and its employees commit themselves to equality of opportunity and to eliminate all forms of discrimination particularly as defined under the terms of the Anti-Discrimination (Pay) Act of 1974 and the Employment Equality Act of 2015.

The aims of our equal opportunity policy are:

- To promote equality of opportunity throughout the organisation; the employment of staff, the participation of project users/clients of our services, the involvement of volunteers and the membership of management and other committees.
- To ensure that no person is treated less favourably than another on grounds of: gender, civil status, family status, Civil status, Sexual orientation, Religion, Age (does not apply to a person under 16), Disability, Race, Membership of the Traveller community.
- To prevent any form of discrimination (i.e. less favourable treatment) whether direct or indirect against staff, prospective staff members, volunteers, members or prospective members of management and against project users/clients of any of our services.
- To ensure that we fulfil our legal obligations.

“The reason I keep coming back to LYCs is the great community spirit and the friendly and caring staff – excellent free classes, top class tutors and most of all for me personally it’s the welcome and caring people at LYCS has given me back some self-confidence again and the belief in myself and what I can achieve creatively and artistically”

She settled well and made lots of friends and now she is really sociable. She learns new stuff every day and teaches me lots of things all the time. She is so ready for school and it’s cause of the crèche.

The staff have the kids best interests at heart and really get to know the children, their likes and who they are. They are really interested in the kids and really care for them.

I personally have had so much support from the staff which has helped me. I can’t even explain it. They are so good and take the parents and kids into their LYCS ‘family’.”
